Camden Middle School Recognized As First To Meet Goals

Camden Middle School staff was recognized by the Camden County Board of Education on Monday, October 21, for being the first school in the system to meet the Camden County goal of 90% proficiency on end-of-grade tests. Camden Middle School was 93.3% proficient for the 2001-02 school year. Rickey Wilson, Board Chair, Wayne White, Vice-Chair, and Brian Lannon thanked the staff for their commitment to meeting and exceeding the system goal.

Dr. Dunn, Interim Superintendent, is congratulating Donna Brant, Principal, on their accomplishment.

Fall Festival A Big Success

The Grandy Primary School PTO sponsored a Fall Festival on Saturday, October 19. Many volunteer hours, from teachers and parents, were spent preparing for the festival. The PTO raised $11,000 toward school projects. It was a great family day with a Coast Guard helicopter, train rides, horse rides, good food, games, and vendors of all sorts.

CMS Students Receive Limo Ride

Camden Middle School treated students who had sold 30 or more items to a limo ride and lunch at Golden Corral. It took 3 trips to carry all the students that had sold over 30 items.

Mrs. Donna Brant Elected POY

Mrs. Donna Brant, Principal of Camden Middle School, has been selected as the Camden County Principal of the Year for 2003. Mrs. Brant has been principal at Camden Middle School since November 2000. She previously served as the Assistant Principal at Camden County High School. Mrs. Brant was also a middle school principal in Kodiak, Alaska, prior to moving to Camden County. She received her B.S. in Elementary Education from Oregon College of Education and her Masters in Administration from Lewis & Clark College.

Mrs. Brant will move on to compete with other local Principals of the Year from the Northeast Region of the state. From among the eight regional winners, three state finalists will be named. After the state selection process is complete, one principal will be selected as the 2003 Wachovia Principal of the Year.

This is the 20th year that Wachovia Bank has sponsored the Principal of the Year financial awards. Local Principals of the Year receive $200, regional Wachovia Principals of the Year receive $1500 for their school and $1500 for personal use. The 2003 Wachovia State Principal of the Year will receive $3000 for their school and $3000 for personal use. The regional awards will be selected by late March and the state award will be announced on May 1, 2003.

Frequently Asked Question Regarding Criminal District Court

Q. WHAT SHOULD I DO BEFORE I GO TO COURT?

A. If you have children, find a babysitter. Plan to stay at least three (3) hours. The courtroom will be crowded and it may be a while before the judge listens to your case.

Dress appropriately. If you dress inappropriately, you may be asked to leave the courtroom.

If you have an attorney, talk with your attorney in advance. The more your attorney understands about your case, the more she/he can help you.

Bring all of the papers you have about your case to court. If you have any witnesses who can tell the court what they saw or heard concerning your charges, you may wish to bring them with you. Make sure that they also dress appropriately. Bring a pencil and paper with you, you may need to take notes about your case or write down court dates. It is your responsibility to know when to return to court if your case is continued (or postponed) until another date.

If you need additional time to discuss your case with your attorney, or to bring enough money for costs and fines, or to bring witnesses to the court on your behalf, you may ask for a continuance. (In other words, you may ask the court to delay your court date to another day). However, the court usually allows a continuance only if there are very special circumstances. You therefore should be prepared to handle your case on your first court date, including having money with you to pay your fine and costs of court. The judge is the only individual with the authority to grant you "time to pay" your money.

Q. WHAT SHOULD I DO WHEN I AM IN COURT?

A. Arrive at the courthouse early. Do not talk in the courtroom. When court starts, listen for your name to be called. Your name may be mispronounced so listen closely. When your name is called say, "Present", loudly and clearly. If your name is called and you do not answer, it is the same as not being there. If your name is not called, notify the person who is calling the names in the courtroom at the first recess or break. You may be in the wrong courtroom.

If you get to court late, stay in the courtroom. The assistant district attorney may call names a second time after court starts. If you are late and your name is not called, let the person who is calling names know that you are there.

This does not mean that the judge will listen to your case.

After the judge hears your case and has reached a decision, make sure that you understand what the judge's decision is. If you have any questions, ask the judge before you leave the courtroom, including asking her/him for additional time to pay.

If the judge says that you are guilty, then you need to have cash to pay your fine and the costs of court. The clerk in the courtroom will tell you where to pay your fine. If you are permitted to pay in installments, make sure that you have your case number with you each time that you come to the clerk's office to make a payment. Keep all of your receipts for payment!

Q. WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I STAND BEFORE THE JUDGE?

A. There are three (3) types of offenses with which you might be charged:

Infractions: An infraction may carry a maximum of $100.00 as the fine, plus the costs of court of $100.00. You cannot be sentenced to serve time in prison for an infraction.

Misdemeanors: A misdemeanor may require the payment of a fine and/or a sentence of imprisonment, plus the costs of court of $100.00.

Felonies: A felony may require the payment of a fine and/or a sentence of imprisonment, plus the costs of court.

When you stand before the judge in court, the assistant district attorney will read the charges that have been made against you. You will be asked how you plead to your charges. You may plead three different ways:

(1) "Not Guilty", which means that you deny the charges against you or you want a trial.

(2) "Guilty", which means that you admit that the charges are true.

(3) "No Contest", which means that you are not going to plead guilty, but you are willing to be sentenced, as you would be if you were found guilty.

If you say "Guilty" or "No Contest" to a misdemeanor you will receive your punishment by the court that day and must be prepared to pay your fine and costs of court on that day.

If the charge against you is a felony, the district court judge will give you another day to return to court because, with some limited exception, judges in Superior Court hear cases that are felonies.

Q. WHAT HAPPENS IF I DO NOT GO TO COURT?

A. If you do not go to court on the date that you are supposed to, then an Order for Arrest may be issued on that day. If you miss court, then go to the Clerk's Office immediately and explain the situation. You may be assigned another court date or you may not. Asking for a new court date does not mean that you will get it. It is your responsibility to arrive at court on your court date and to arrive at court on time. You should also be aware that your failure to appear in court might result in the revocation of your driver's license and an additional Failure to Appear fee of $50.00.

Albemarle Smart Start Partnership

Albemarle Smart Start Partnership is now forming Community Playgroups in Camden County. These Community Playgroups will be held at NCDC (located next to Watermark). Community Playgroups is a free service offered to families with children ages 0-4. Playgroups consist of several preschool children and their parent, grandparent or other caregiver meeting on a regular basis to play and learn together. Activities are planned by our staff including story time and art. Playgroups are designed to give young children, who are not in another childcare or preschool program, the opportunity to socialize with other children in a safe, developmentally appropriate and fun environment. Playgroups also offer stay-at-home parents a chance to meet other parents and perhaps foster friendships. In our Community Playgroups, we show parents ways they can teach their children through play and hands-on experiences. We will meet once a week for two hours and a nourishing snack will be provided.

For more information regarding "Cooperative Playgroups", please contact Elaine Spellman at 333-1233x109.

Old Jarvisburg Colored School Renovation

The Old Jarvisburg Colored School, established in 1866, has been a symbol of pride and home to over five generations of African-Americans in lower Currituck County, N.C. The current building was remodeled in 1906 and was vacated by the county Board of Education in 1950 when the Black Schools were consolidated.

Corinth Baptist Church saw a need for the community and purchased the building from the county. Over time as the building began to deteriorate it became unusable. The NC Department of Cultural Resources has done a site survey and has informed us that this building can be renovated and restored as a historic landmark.

Won't you please help us restore this building to a useful Community Center and mini Library for the community? Someone once said, "You don't know where you are going unless you know where you've been." We know that our parents and grandparents had a tremendous amount of pride in this school building because it was the foundation of education and the work force for African-Americans in lower Currituck County. We know that you, an alumnus, descendent of an alumnus, or friend of a former student will find pride in our efforts to restore this icon of history.

Corinth Baptist Church, which owns the building, has 501C3 Tax Status with the Federal Government. This means that all donations made by you are tax deductible when you file your income taxes. You may name a family member or yourself as the honoree of your pledge. All honorees who donate $500.00 or more will have their names inscribed on a plaque and placed in the restored community building. Please make out your checks to "Old Jarvisburg Colored School Restoration" and mail your gift to Mrs. Norma C. Williams, P.O. Box 173, Barco, N.C. 27917. Thank you for your support.

Enhancement of Largemouth Bass Populations in Coastal Rivers

The N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission is working to restore hurricane-impacted largemouth bass populations in select northeastern North Carolina rivers where floodwaters from recent severe weather events—most notably Hurricane Floyd—reduced bass densities in at least five coastal plain rivers. Commission fishery biologists will conduct the initial experimental phase of the largemouth bass stocking and assessment program in the Chowan, Pasquotank, Perquimans and Scuppernon rivers from May 2002 through April 2005. If initial stocking efforts successfully enhance largemouth bass populations in these four rivers, the Commission will add the Alligator River to phase two of the bass enhancement program.

Commission fishery biologists currently are tagging about 15,000 largemouth bass fingerlings (2-inch baby bass) with coded wire cheek tags and stocking the tagged bass in study areas within the Chowan, Pasquotank, Perquimans and Scuppernon rivers. This fall, the biologists will use an electrofishing boat to sample the largemouth bass populations in the study areas to determine if the tagged fingerlings are contributing to the local bass populations.

"Our spring population surveys confirmed angler reports that largemouth bass populations in North Carolina's northeastern rivers have declined significantly in abundance," said Chad Thomas, district one fisheries biologist. "We've determined that the oxygen-poor floodwaters resulting from hurricanes contributed directly to declines in these bass populations."

If successful, Thomas said, this study will increase the abundance of harvestable-sized largemouth bass available to the angling public.

"Fortunately, the Commission enjoys a good relationship with local bass clubs in this part of the state," Thomas said. "Bass anglers' interest in conservation of aquatic habitat in general and the local largemouth bass fishery in particular engendered open communication that helped us identify this problem in time for the Commission to effect a remedy."

For more information, contact the Commission's Division of Inland Fisheries at (919) 733-3633 ext. 281, or check the web site for future updates at www.ncwildlife.com.
